CZERNIN, Count FERDINAND

When Otto von HABSBURG formed his Military Committee, Czernin signed a protest against it with ENGLAENDER and DEUTSCH (q.v.); though friendly with Social Democrats, did not merge with them against Otto / did not form own military committee, but instead merged 3 Center groups: his own Austrian Action, the Assembly for a Democratic Austrian Republic under Fritz RAGER (q.v.) and Austrian Youth under Vera PONGER, to form American Federation of Austrian Democrats; some see this merger as a genuine step toward Austrian unity in U.S. / Czernin is Chairman, Englaender and Ponger are vice-chairmen, and Herman OPPENHEIM is vice-chairman and treasurer; a Board of Directors which will include some Americans is being formed / Austrian National Committee was broken apart by formation of Otto's committee because its leaders, ZERNATTO, ROTT, SCHUSCHNIGG and TAYLOR were accused of

in this country; since Hitler, he and followers have discarded idea of Anschluss and look to a Russian Confederation, beginning with Czechoslovakia and Austria and later including Hungary if it became democratic and Poland if not too Russian; on good terms with Russians whom he sees frequently; convinced German trade mission has not died and will revive when Russia dies.
